LEWIS COUNTY MAN MURDERED; FLEMING COUNTYMAN HELD

Thomas Horsley, prominent Lewis County Farmer, Found Murdered Near His Home—One Accused Man Surrenders Himself.

Thomas Horsley, prominent Lewis County farmer, was found murdered near his home in the Harris neighborhood Thursday morning at about 11 o'clock by Shell Howard, a neighbor who had heard the shot which is supposed to have killed the farmer.

Howard says that a short time before the shot was heard, he had seen Horsley in company with Raymond Denton and Jeff Mannin, horse traders from Hillsboro, Fleming County, and returning to the spot where he had seen the men following the shot, both Denton and Mannin were gone while Horsley lay on the ground dead with a bullet wound through his heart. At his side lay a revolver, Horsley's pocket book open and scattered about on the ground his money.

Reports reached Maysville this morning from Hillsboro that Denton had last night surrendered himself to the Fleming County authorities claiming that his partner, Mannin, had fired the fatal shot. The men were supposed to have been in a crap game and trouble arising over the game caused the shot to be fired.

Mannin is reported to be a paroled prisoner from the State Reformatory having once before been sent to that institution on a charge of shooting which is said to have arisen about gambling.

BUES FOR RETURN OF PARTIAL PAYMENT.
Allen Buckler filed suit in the Mason Circuit Court this morning against M. F. Coughlin. The plaintiff charges that he agreed to purchase a farm from the defendant upon which he made the initial payment of $500, and that thereafter the defendant sold the farm to another but retained his $500. He asks for the return of the $500 so paid the defendant.

Saturday will be the last day to get tickets on that beautiful kitchen cabinet at Merz Bros.

WATER PRESSURE DOWN LAST NIGHT.

ESCAPED FROM ASYLUM; CAPTURED AT MAYSICK

Colored Man Who Sets Fire to a Number of Barns in Mayslick Escapes and Returns to Old Haunts.

On Thursday "Bill" Washington, colored man convicted several years ago of arson in connection with the mysterious burning of a number of barns in the Mayslick neighborhood, and sentenced to nine years in the state penitentiary and afterwards transferred to the state asylum for the insane, made his appearance in the Mayslick neighborhood. The good people of that section of the county were frightened and did not know what it meant.

A long distance telephone call to the state asylum for the insane disclosed that Washington had escaped from the Lexington institution and it is supposed that he walked all the way from Lexington to Mayslick.

He was arrested last night, brought to the Mason County Jail here and a guard from the asylum will arrive today to return the insane man to that institution.

FEDERAL OFFICERS MAKE A RAID ON 'SHINERS IN LEWIS

Four Still and Seventy Gallons of Mash Taken in Raids This Week in Lewis County.

Wednesday morning, Neal Guilfoyle, of Mt. Sterling, S. J. Watkins, of Jackson, of the U. S. Enforcement Department and James Davis, Deputy U. S. Marshal of West Liberty, quietly dropped into Vanceburg and began the work of enforcing the prohibition law. Soon consternation reigned among the moonshiners, bootleggers and drinkers.

The day's raid netted the following results: Mrs. Bett Politt and son, Wm. Hackworth, still found and ten gallons of mash; Elmer Armstrong, still found and forty gallons of mash; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lanter, still and ten gallons mash; Vess Gardner, still and ten gallons mash.

They were taken to Catlettsburg Thursday to be given a preliminary hearing before the U. S. Commissioner.

The case of Mrs. Politt was halted up and caused a ruffling of the feelings of the enforcement officers when they learned that she had executed bail by putting up a cash bond. Such arrangement, he affirmed, would cause too much work for his department already overworked. They were to be considered U. S. prisoners and not county or state.

At the same time, Bruce Armstrong was picked up, charged in an indictment with disturbing worship.

Tom Hackworth also was brought in, having taken French leave out of the court room when he was being fined for some misdemeanor.

Several gallons of moonshine whiskey were found under the church of the Unknown Tongue Thursday. Evidently the bootleggers were figuring on a land office business at the night services. Some boys playing around the church late in the afternoon discovered the cache and broke the Mason jars containing the liquor.

Approximately 300 Masons of northern Kentucky will be members of a class which is to be initiated Saturday into the Mystic Shrine at a special ceremonial session of El Hana Temple, of Ashland, at Ft. Thomas. The occasion is to be opened at 9:30 o'clock and closed with a dinner at 6 o'clock that night.

Rev. Charles Bartlett is seriously ill at his home in the East End.

HEAD OF CATHOLIC CHURCH HERE DIES

CARDINAL GIBBONS
After Long Illness—Catholic Head in America.

Baltimore, March 25. — James Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop of Baltimore and Senior Prelate of the Catholic Church in the United States, died Thursday, passing away so quietly that even his nurse, a Bon Secours nun, could not be sure that it was the end. She had seen the change that betokened it, but it was slight, almost imperceptible and five minutes passed while she leaned above the slight, still form, watching.

Then from the house where he had lived and worked, in the shadow of the Cathedral of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, went forth the news that he had died.

His grave will be in a niche in the crypt under the high altar of the Cathedral. A slab of marble carved with an inscription in Latin in the north wall of the crypt will mark his resting place.

POLICE AND WORK- ERS BATTLE IN GER- MAN MINING TOWN

Fighting is so fierce That Railroad Station Changes Hands Twice in Only Twenty Minutes.

Elsleben, Germany, March 25.—The street fighting, as a result of the Communist outbreak, which has been in progress for the last two days in this mining town is continuing desperately, with hand-to-hand combat at the railroad station and near the center of the city.

The rattle of machine gunfire, the crash of hand-grenade explosions and the peeping of rifles has continued steadily. Two thousand police are holding the eastern half of the town, while 2,500 workmen are in possession of the western section. All the workers are heavily armed and well disciplined.

The intensity of the fighting may be judged from the fact that the railroad station changed hands twice in twenty minutes. The police are now in possession of the station. Bodies of the dead and severely wounded are still lying in the streets. The less severely wounded are crowded into sheltered doorways, with bullets raining puffs of dust about them.

Railroad and telephone communications have been cut.

MISS ELIZABETH GIBBONS DIES IN CALIFORNIA.

Her very many friends were saddened today to learn of the death at Los Angeles, California, of Miss Elizabeth Gibbons, at 5 o'clock this morning. Funeral will be Monday afternoon and lay after months of critical illness. Burial will be made at Los Angeles. Miss Gibbons is survived by her mother, Mrs. Mollie Gibbons, and two aunts, Mrs. Joseph Walton, of this city, who was at her bedside when the end came, and Mrs. Ella Allen, of East Second street. She was a lovely young lady of many admirable traits and had hundreds of friends in Maysville who are grieved.

SIN AND THE DEVIL PUT PLAINLY BEFORE AUDIENCE

Evangelist Vines Says There is a Hell With Fires Twenty Times Hotter Than Liberal Fires in Today.

Declaring his firm belief in a personal devil and a burning hell, Dr. John F. Vines, Evangelist at the Baptist revival, preached to a large audience last night despite the threatening weather. His subject was "The Subtle Serpent" and his sermon was built about the fall of man.

The speaker pictures the subtle serpent of today not as a crawling snake but in the most attractive dress. He preached an old time gospel sermon on an old time theme and yet his sermon was new from beginning to end and he held his large audience spellbound by his most striking examples. This evening Dr. Vines will preach on the subject: "Who's To Blame If I'm Lost." The song service begins at 7:15 and the new songs being taught by Mr. McKinley are beautiful.

There will be services on Saturday night and on Sunday Dr. Vines will speak five times. A great mass meeting will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon for men and boys only.

Miss Carolyn Taylor and Mrs. James Rees, of Augusta, and Mrs. Collins, of Avondale, Cincinnati, are the guests of Mrs. Charles E. Curran, of Fourth street.

MASS MEETING IN INTEREST OF BASE- BALL HELD TONIGHT

All Citizens Interested in Baseball for Maysville during the Coming Summer Months are Urged to Attend Mass Meeting at Council Chamber.

Interest in a strong baseball team for Maysville for the coming summer months which has been felt here for several weeks, took some definite form yesterday when an organization was perfected and a mass meeting of fans called for this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The organization was perfected by the selection of Mayor Thomas M. Russell as President, Mr. P. H. Leathwood as Secretary, Frank R. Hauke as Treasurer, and Dwain Rees as Field Manager.

For several weeks and months there has been much talk about Maysville having a strong ball team for the summer and now that the sun is shining hot and the Spring season has arrived, it is time to be acting more and doing less talking. Realizing that there must be something done quickly, this baseball organization has called a mass meeting of fans to be held at the City Council Chamber this evening at 7:30 o'clock when ways and means will be discussed. Every baseball fan and all those interested in seeing Maysville rank with its neighbors towns in baseball this season should attend this evening.

OUR POLICY:

And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

TOBACCO MARKETS.

Practically all loose leaf markets of North Carolina and Virginia will have completed this season's sales by April 1st, or some few days prior to that date, with both states showing a record breaker season's sales, so far as tonnage is concerned. Owing to the depressed foreign situation, shutting off, practically, the demand for American tobaccos that usually is so freely purchased and shipped abroad, together with the lower grades predominating in the 1920 crop, the averages on many of the markets fall far below that of the previous year's crop, in many instances not reaching the half-way mark.

The Winston-Salem market during 1919-1920 selling season handled a little short of 34,000,000 pounds, while during the 1920-21 selling season approximately 60,000,000 pounds.

While there has been considerable agitation at all points as to cutting out the 1921 crop and reducing the acreage, a great deal of it has been newspaper talk, or data in the way of propaganda given out by organizers, but this seems to have fallen flat and the cool-headed, influential growers, as a general thing will use their own judgment in planning their own acreage this season and while many will reduce their plantings for the general good of the quality of the tobacco they expect to raise, it would seem, from reports we gather that this coming season's acreage will be between 65 to 75 per cent. of the plantings of 1920 crop.

This also applied to Kentucky, Indiana, West Virginia and the burley district of Ohio, where the markets will continue to sell for several weeks to come and where the prices have shown considerable advances on medium fine grades during the past few weeks. There seems to be a better feeling among the growers who have come to reconcile their low prices, as compared with last season, account of declining prices on all other articles.

The Western Tobacco Journal believes, having talked to a large number of growers, that the producers fully understand conditions that have brought about the present low prices of tobacco, as have been explained in our columns several times before, in fact specifically written for the benefit of our readers prior to the opening of the loose leaf markets, we have predicted prices would be considerably lower than last season, account of the foreign money situation and large stocks held by manufacturers, and we feel sure that the growers will not try to take advantage of the situation, but will agree to limit the acreage this season and not overproduce, as was the case last year at a time when manufacturers were overstocked with low grade tobaccos and unfortunately, at a time when there was falling market on all commodities—thus the law of supply and demand again marking time to which prices were to step.—Western Tobacco Journal.

BOOTS IN HIS YOUTH.

What old boy of today does not recall that first pair of copper toed boots? Those shiny caps were in first to meet the many obstacles in the path of childhood and they conquered. Uppers and soles might waste and wrinkle with age, but those toes wore a cheerful countenance to the last step. Then came the boots with polished red tops.

No real boy would profane those bright embellishments by wearing his trousers over them. The trousers went inside the boots, and the boy, taller by six inches, strode off to school with head high and martial tread.

In winter came the cowhide boots. These, well appointed with melted mutton tallow, were impervious to any kind of slush, but if left wet overnight would often freeze solid. Many an old fellow will recall how he struggled in the morning to get into those frigid coverings and go through the torture of thawing them out by the warmth of his cold feet under the school benches.

Every kitchen had its bootjack behind the woodbox. These jacks served the dual purpose of pulling off boots and hurling after alien cats.

Now we are on the subject of footwear mention must be made of those Sunday calfskin boots. The breed of calves from which they were made must be extinct. No such black soft leather is in evidence nowadays. Their tops were so delicately thin that they could not stand alone but settled about one-third of their length in glossy convolutions about the ankles. They were indeed beauties, the shining mark of a gentleman.—New York Sun.

FARM LAND

HAS DECREASED

ALL OVER NATION

Decrease of Seven Per Cent. in Plow-Lands in America Is Reported by Agricultural Department.

Washington, D. C. — The average price of plowland per acre in the United States decreased about seven per cent during the past year, according to a report just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. The average value of plowland per acre on March 1 of this year was $33.78, as compared to $36.01 in 1920, and 74.13, in 1919. The statisticians of the department attribute the decline to the reduction in the prices of crops.

The report shows that the heaviest drop in the price of land is in the Southern states where cotton is the principal crop. In some sections of these states there has been a decline of thirty per cent. in the price of plow land during the year. The average price of plowland in Georgia this year is $36 per acre, while last year it was $46—a drop of about twenty-two per cent. The average in South Carolina last year was $61, while this year it is $50—a drop of twenty per cent.

Probably the greatest drop in any one state was in Kentucky, and is attributed to the decline in the price of tobacco. In 1920, the average price of plowland in this state was $70 per acre while this year it is $53. This is a decline of approximately twenty-four per cent.

Iowa is the state having the highest prices of plowland per acre. The report shows that it is valued at $200 this year, as compared with $219 last year—a decline of about nine per cent. Illinois ranks second in the value of plowland, according to the report, the price per acre being $157. In Alabama and Mississippi the average price of plowland per acre is $26.

The western states show the least decline in prices of land, and in the case of California, Oregon, and Colorado there is a slight increase over last year. Plowland in California was valued at $130 per acre last year, while this year the average is $135.

The report shows that there was a rapid increase in the price of land from 1917 to 1920, when the highest price was reached. The decline during the past year is not as great as the increase from 1919 to 1920. Land prices are still higher than any year preceding 1920.

Of the $8,000,000,000 of money in the country approximately $5,500,000,000 is in circulation.

Dimondale, Mich.—"I had inflammation and a displacement and weakness, and it had been neglected so long that it caused great pain, and this affected my mind and nerves so that I was very irritable. I had severe pains every month, so that I was often obliged to lie in bed for two days at a time. I suffered for more than a year before my friends said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' So I purchased one bottle after another until I had taken ten bottles, then Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I received so much benefit from this treatment that I am now able to do my own work."—Mrs. W. D. Britten, R. No. 2, Dimondale, Mich.

Another Michigan Woman says: "I was bothered for a long time with female troubles and was so nervous I felt almost afraid at times. I also had a pain in my right side and was certainly in a bad way. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has relieved me of these nervous feelings and pains and I am much better in every way. I don't know just how many bottles I have taken, but I took it for nearly a year and it has done me a world of good."—Mrs. JESSIE GRANGER, R. No. 8, Box 51, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Good health is a woman's greatest asset. With it she may be the inspiration of her husband, a happy mother, and the life of the home. Without it she suffers agonies herself, household duties are a burden, and her family is made miserable by her condition.

Is it any wonder that these women were nervous and irritable after suffering so long from such deranged conditions? Such ailments act directly upon the nerves, and it has been said that a large percentage of nervous prostration, nervous despondency, "the blues," and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement of the female organism.

If women who are in this condition would only profit by the experience of others and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, much suffering and unhappiness would be averted, as everyone knows a nervous, irritable, ailing mother makes the home unhappy and her condition irritates both husband and children.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

New York Letter

New York.—They mix art and politics better in the lands of the Slave than we do here. At least they mix them more. First there was Padricewski; and now Ivan Urodov, Russian dancer who has been teaching here in New York, has received an appeal to go immediately to Kronstadt to take charge of the anti-Bolshevik rebellion there. A messenger who left Revel two weeks ago, has just arrived with the appeal. Mr. Urodov, it seems, is as experienced a rebellion leader as he is a dancer. He was prominent in the rebellion against the Czar in 1905 and issued the first proclamation of the United States of Russia in 1906.

There isn't such a great deal of difference in the activities of boys the

A merciless judge in Father Time. Before him the weak and the wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Maysville resident has withstood this sternest of all tests. Mrs. M. Holliday, 221 East Second street, Maysville, says: "I have been greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills and I have reason to recommend them. At times my back has become lame and ached just over my kidneys. My kidneys were irregular in action and I was dizzy. When ever I have used Doan's Kidney Pills I always get relief from these complaints. I certainly think them a good reliable remedy. I always get Doan's at Wood & Son's Drug Store."

The above statement was given November 16, 1916, and on November 22, 1920, Mrs. Holliday said: "I am glad to say my kidneys have given me no trouble since using Doan's Kidney Pills four years ago. My general health has been good. I gladly renew the statement I gave recommending Doan's at that time." Price 60 cents, at all dealers. New York is a true gold port these days. Gold is flowing into this country from all points of the compass and it cuts by New York Harbor. From Australia, England, Holland, Sweden, and India, have come shipments within the past few days; great boxes of bar gold. In two days, New York banking houses received $5,325,000 in gold from Europe and Asia.

He said that he has decent challenges on ahead and has offered prizes for any man who can defeat his long-armed pet.

LUCY JEANNE PRICE.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

Washington.—"There was no more pungent sentence in President Harding's inaugural address than his declaration that 'No civilization can survive repudiation,' declared a well-known financial writer in Washington recently. "In making that statement the President not only served notice on the world that America cannot consent to the contribution of $11,000,000,000 more to the cost of the late war, but, in a way little comprehended, he furthered the friendly relations between nations and upon the maintenance of which future peace depends."

"Repudiation" of another sort was one of the prime causes of the World War. It was the repudiation by Germany of her written agreement not to violate the neutrality of Belgium that brought Great Britain into the war, and it was her repudiation of her undertakings to respect international law upon the high seas that compelled the United States to resort to arms. Those were written contracts, and the certificates of indebtedness now reposing in our Treasury as evidence of foreign obligations are written contracts. Repudiation of the one is no more to be condemned as a matter of principle than repudiation of the other.

"During the war and since, the world heard much of 'scraps of paper' and nations that looked upon their written obligations as so much paper to be discarded at will were beyond the pale of civilization. The war was waged against militarism, but quite as much to compel respect for international law, which Germany had repudiated."

tomational law, which Germany had ruthlessly violated in her contempt for her solemn international obligations. Had Germany and the principles that inspired her triumphed, there is not a man or a nation allied nations but will admit that civilization would have died. As Mr. Harding says, civilization could not have survived the victory of repudiation.

"Cancellation of the piled indebtedness to each other and to the United States would simply mean that never again would international indebtedness be erected in time of war. The practical effect would be a tremendous stimulation to armaments, the direct antithesis of the object that all the allied nations profess to seek. Without the prospect of resort to foreign credits in the event of future wars, nations would redouble their present cash expenditures for defense."

"Had the doctrine of repudiation of debts been suggested before the World War, credits would have been denied not only by the United States but by European nations to each other. There is not a shadow of a doubt that but for those credits Germany would have won the war—but for the faith of one nation in the financial honor of another, the war would have been lost to the allies. The diversion created on the Russian front for over two years was made possible by British loans to Russia. Great Britain, France and Italy were enabled to keep up their pressure against the Germans through the supplies from America paid for by money borrowed from the American treasury. The vital need for the money has passed, but the extremists in which the allies found themselves when it was asked should not be forgotten.

"The prompt refunding of the loans into long-time obligations with a fair rate of interest would go far toward ending the talk of cancellation. Once the schedule of payments is assured, allied nations can adjust themselves to the financial program and ink of repudiation will quickly subside. There is reason to believe that the Harding administration will bring about that consummation at an early date, and put the loans in a status that will assure their future payment and discourage further talk of cancellation."

KENTUCKIAN TELLS OF WORST FAMINE

The Rev. William Stout Blames
China's Catastrophe to Destruction of Forests

WILL SPEAK OVER STATE

Destruction of North China's great forests during the centuries that have passed; this deforestation which now leaves an area of 300,000 square miles denuded of trees, is the direct cause of the worst famine in history. This is the declaration of missionaries returning from the famine area and voiced by the Rev. William Stout, who has returned to his home in Georgetown, Ky., after five years in China. The Rev. Mr. Stout will start a speaking tour of the state next week in the interest of the China Famine Fund of which Joseph Burgo, 9 Board of Trade Building, Louisville, is chairman.

Through the China Famine Fund, every relief organization in China is supplied with funds; these organizations, including the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, Christian missions, religious organizations and American units.

Deforestation is Blamed.

"This great catastrophe which threatens to wipe out the lives of 15,000,000 persons within the next sixty days, he said, is due to drought, the natural result of the denudation of forests which has gone on for centuries in North China. With few trees on the land to hold the moisture the natural consequence is that rainfall is small and uncertain. Even in years when the rainfall is sufficient the Yellow River and other rivers break over their banks, unprotected by trees, washing away the soil and deluging the crops."

"It is a prevalent idea that rice is the main food of all the Chinese people. This is true in South China where travelers get their impression and is strengthened by the fact that nearly all the Chinese in America came from South China. In the fall, wheat is sown in North China and after being harvested in the early summer, millet and sorghum are sown."

Roots Always Eaten.

"All these crops are harvested by being pulled up by the roots as these with the stalks and straw of the grain are the main dependence for fuel. In the years when crops are short it does not mean only that some little luxuries will have to be given up, but it means that there will be less of the coarse millet meal bread. It means that when the potatoes are gone the vines will be eaten; it means that instead of two or three meals a day there will be only one."

"When a crop failure is fifty per cent, as it often is, it means that many starve to death. The last five crops have been only about ten per cent of normal."

"Practically all of North China is village after village, often only separated by a few yards of ground. In parts of North China the population is twenty times denser than in Jefferson County. The Chinaman may live and carry on a business in a port remote from his ancestral village, but he expects to go there and spend his last days and be buried by the side of his ancestors."

Eight hundred and twenty-four banks in this country are now members of the Federal Reserve system.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.
MARCH 27, 1921.
Topic: The Resurrection of Christ. — Matt. 28:10, 16-20.
REV. J. J. DICKEY.

Easter is a movable festival of the church. It occurs on the first Sunday after the first full moon after the vernal equinox. It is almost universally observed in all Christian countries. It is the celebration of the resurrection of Christ. Its observance keeps the Christian religion before all classes of people. The secular press usually has as much to say about it as the religious press. So it is with Christmas. These two festivals teach the greatest lessons of the gospel. The resurrection of Christ presupposed his death. Both are comprehended in the one. It is well that both Easter and Christmas are observed by the Sunday schools, because in this the children are taught these great lessons, and youth is the period to impress great truths upon the mind.

Paul makes the resurrection of Jesus fundamental in the economy of grace. He goes so far as to say "If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching in vain, and your faith is also vain. Ye are yet in your sins." Then, follows the bold declaration: "But now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that sleep." The evidence of Christ's resurrection is overwhelming by the evangelists. The absence of any collusion is clear from the variety of statements they make. There are some apparent discrepancies in the different accounts, but these disappear under a fair and discriminating interpretation. The doctrine of the resurrection is one of the most consoling in the word of God. Man longs for immortality. In this doctrine he finds his desires gratified. Much discussion has been indulged in as to the make up of the resurrected body. We are told it is "to be like unto his glorious body." In that body he partook of food. Paul uses the germination of grain to illustrate the resurrection. In that like produces like.

We are taught in the Bible that there will be a new heaven and a new earth. The heaven here refers to the material development of the earth as we understand it. Again we who are redeemed and have part in the first resurrection are to inhabit this renewed earth. As the material earth was involved in the fall of man, so will it be affected in his restoration. We get into deep water here. We cannot fathom it. We are interested in the new birth or the resurrection of the soul to a state of holiness, then we know that whatever these obscure scriptures may mean we are secure. We shall be able to exclaim in a dying hour "O death where is thy sting. O grave where is thy victory?"
